

The University
Of Sheffield.

Management
School.

MSc in International Management.

MSc in International Management

Different countries have different ways of doing business. That's what international management is all about. Multinational companies must overcome various challenges so they can successfully do business across borders. This course focuses on three key business regions of the world: the UK, Europe and South East Asia. You'll develop your understanding of the specific challenges, opportunities and style of business in these areas. You'll also have the opportunity to develop your foreign language skills. There is an emphasis on understanding and managing complex multinational firms with a particular focus on the specific opportunities and styles of business in different parts of Europe and East Asia.

The MSc in International Management at the University of Sheffield brings together the Management School with our internationally renowned School of East Asian Studies.

Profile of typical candidate

The programme is aimed at those who have studied business or management and who wish to acquire an international dimension to their knowledge. You will gain a critical appreciation of management principles and practices and acquire the necessary skills to become an effective manager in a multinational organisation. The programme is likely to appeal to those who are interested in starting or boosting their career in management and who wish to obtain a strong postgraduate qualification from a leading, research-led University.

Entry Specification

A 2:1 honours degree or equivalent in business or a related subject.

Our standard English requirement for overseas students is IELTS 7.0 (with no less than 6 in each part). If you are unable to take IELTS we will consider TOEFL 600 with TWE 4.5 (paper-based) on TOEFL 260, TWE 5.0 (computer-based) or equivalent.

Course content

Two taught semesters, followed by a dissertation.

Core modules

- European business
- International business strategy
- International management
- Business and the Economy of Japan and/or
- The East Asian Economic Miracle

Optional modules (you choose three or four)

There are a wide range of modules though the exact combination chosen is subject to regulations. Not all modules may be available every year, and there may be additional modules on offer. Examples of the modules that are available are

- Contemporary Chinese Business and Management
- Managing People in Organisations
- Corporate Finance
- Strategic Management of Information
- International Human Resource Studies
- Theories of Intercultural Communications
- East Asian and European Languages

Teaching

- Lectures
- Seminars
- Case Studies
- Group work for collaborative learning
- Web-based discussion groups

Assessment

- Individual assignments
- Group projects
- Examinations
- Project

Certificate/Diploma in International Management

Students who successfully complete the first semester but do not proceed receive the PG Certificate. Those who pass both semesters' modules but do not complete the dissertation receive the PG Diploma.

Contact for enquiries:

Hilda Betts + 44 (0) 114 222 2181

Email: H.betts@sheffield.ac.uk

Find out more about this course and the School of Management

www.sheffield.ac.uk/management/postgraduates