Executive MBA

The Sheffield Executive MBA is a high quality programme for managers with ambition. It is designed to fit around your professional life without the need to take a career break.

You will study in small groups and work alongside and learn from professionals in many other business areas, to ensure you benefit from the most effective learning experience.

Delivered part-time over two and a half years, the Executive MBA will equip you with the skills you need to identify opportunities, generate value for your organisation and confidently take your career to new heights.

Who is the course for?

- Middle management professionals from both public and private sectors looking to advance their careers into senior management.
- Business owners and senior managers keen to ensure succession planning.

Starting date: January 2012

Duration: Part time over two years plus a 6-month work-based project.

Attendance requirements:

3 consecutive day's face-to-face on-site tuition per module (Thursday, Friday and Saturday). This will be supported by 79 hours of blended distance learning.

Accommodation: High-quality executive accommodation is available for delegates if required.

Entry requirements: Three years' relevant work experience. A first degree would be beneficial but is not compulsory in the presence of adequate work experience and professional qualifications.

Assessment: A combination of work-based assignments, presentations, projects and exams.

Accreditation: Accredited by the Association of MBAs and the Chartered Management Institute.

Intake: 25 delegates per year.

Fees: £18,300 paid over two years. A range of bursaries is available.

Bursaries for January 2012: Bursaries covering 50% of the total course fees are available for the following groups:

- Female delegates
- Delegates from SMEs
- Delegates from the public sector

Further applications outside of these categories will be considered if a strong business case can be made. Please get in touch for further details.

Benefits to you and your organisation:

- Professional and personal development.
- A boost to your career and added value for your organisation.
- The chance to meet and work with fellow professionals from different backgrounds.
- The skills you need to operate successfully in a volatile, fast-moving business environment: you'll gain a thorough, up-to-date grasp of operational issues and the expertise to put your knowledge to work.
- An understanding of issues relevant to your real-life work situation: you'll work in a team with fellow delegates and tutor practitioners to generate practical solutions.
- Your end-of module assignment can apply to your full time job bringing immediate benefit to you and your employer - or you can choose to explore another topic that interests you.
- Experience of other workplace environments, developing new skills and a broader understanding.
- Two professional qualifications. You'll receive an Executive MBA from Sheffield as well as the CMI Executive Diploma in Strategic Management.
